Professor of Communication, UNH

Rethinking Brazilian Public Healthcare Practice

Wednesday, March 5 at 4:00 PM
MUB Theater I

Professor Sheila McNamee has been working with colleagues in Brazil to develop a collaborative education program for training health care professionals. This program is focused on addressing how professionals can train to become “experts” in health care delivery while simultaneously placing significant emphasis on communication within professional-patient relationships.

Seminar begins promptly at 4:00 p.m.

Refreshments will be served.
