

Sent: March 5, 2009

Subject: White House Interns

Here's a terrific opportunity for your students: On February 26, President Obama announced details of the Summer 2009 White House Internship Program for enrolled college or university students and graduates (within the past two years). Interns will be placed in a variety of departments ranging from the Office of the Presidential Personnel, to the White House Counsel's office, to Communications department, to the Office of the First Lady. The program runs from May 22 to August 14, 2009, and the application submission deadline is March 22, 2009. For more information, visit the White House Internship Program page.

Please let us know when your students land one of these coveted internships!