

SAVE THE DATE!

July 11-13, 2010

Since 1981, the International Family Violence Research Conference has been a highlight of our year. This opportunity to hear about the latest research in the field of family violence, meet new family violence researchers, and see old friends has been both intellectually enlightening and professionally energizing. We thank you for your past participation and look forward to the years to come.

In response to the global financial crisis and the tightening of available grant money, we have decided not to hold a conference in July 2009. The next International Family Violence Research Conference will be held from July 11-13, 2010, again in Portsmouth, NH.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions. We regret that we will not be seeing our friends and colleagues at the Conference this year, but look forward to resuming in 2010. Thank you again for your participation in the past.

Sincerely,
