Using Your GI Bill Benefits During January Term

Taking January term classes is a great way to finish your degree faster and receive BAH for most of January. Just like during the Fall and Spring semesters, any courses you take using your GI Bill must meet unfilled degree requirements. It is your responsibility to be certain the courses you are taking meet your degree requirements. Although you are not required to meet with your advisor prior to January Term registration, we encourage you to do so if you have any questions about how a January term course will fit into your degree program!

During January Term, a one-credit course is considered half time, and a two credit or more course is considered full time. You are only allowed to take one course due to the condensed nature of the courses.

Chapter 33 Students:

BAH is prorated based on enrollment, and online classes are paid at a different rate than traditional classes. The current distance BAH rate is $714.50/month, and the current in-person class BAH rate is $1413 at UNH Durham. January term online classes will entitle you to online BAH from December 27, 2013 to January 17, 2014. January term in-person classes will entitle you to in-person BAH from January 2, 2014 to January 17, 2014. Your normal BAH will start back up on the 21st of January when Spring Semester 2014 begins. You must enroll in at least two credits to receive any BAH during the January term.

Tuition, fees, and book money (if you haven’t already reached your cap) are paid like normal for January Term enrollment.
