Materials Science Workshop

Wednesday, October 13, 2004, 1:30–5:30 pm
Squamscott Room, Holloway Commons, UNH campus, Durham, NH

You are invited to an afternoon workshop for scientists, engineers, faculty and students to become better acquainted with the new UNH Materials Science Program. We will describe our graduate degree programs and the research activities of our materials science faculty. Please feel free to bring one or more colleagues, just let us know who is coming. The workshop is free of charge.

Agenda

1:30 – 2:00	James Harper, Director	Welcome and Overview of the Program
2:00 – 2:30	Donald Sundberg	Innovative Nanocomposite Coatings and Their Applications
2:30 – 3:00	Glen Miller	Nanotechnology at UNH
3:00 – 3:30	Break	Posters and Discussion
3:30 – 4:00	Karsten Pohl	Self-assembly at Surfaces and Scanning Probe Microscopy
4:00 – 4:30	Carmela Amato-Wierda	Thin Films and Deposition Processes
4:30 – 5:00	Thomas Laue	Materials Science in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology
5:00 – 5:30	Refreshments	Posters and Discussion

Please call to register before October 8. For registration and other information, contact Tracey Harvey (tracey.harvey@unh.edu) (603) 862-1353.

Directions

UNH is only 65 miles North of Boston, in the Seacoast region of New Hampshire. See www.unh.edu for directions and a campus map. There will be reserved parking in Lot A, from which it is a 15-minute walk to Holloway Commons. Additional parking is available at the Visitor Center next to Lot A.
