EXPANDING YOUR WORLD FOR 35 YEARS AND COUNTING

Active Retirement Association 1982 – 2017
The Active Retirement Association, a registered 501(c)(3) non-profit, is not affiliated with any political, religious, ethnic, or special interest group.

(NOTE: This is a large-format (8.5” x 11”) version of the 5” x 8.5” booklet printed for ARA members in 2018. It contains the same text as the booklet, but not all of the images.)
35 YEARS AND COUNTING

In the year 2017, we celebrated the 35th Anniversary of the Active Retirement Association. Two prior histories of ARA have been published to commemorate the 20th and 25th anniversaries. Here, I have borrowed from those two documents and added more current information so both old and new members can see where we came from and where we are today. Thus, credit must be given to the following individuals for their contributions:

- 20-YEAR HISTORY: Robert M. Dudley, Donald F. Clark, Joan E. MacPhail;

I also want to thank Penny Drooker, current Director of Public Relations, Deidre Prescott, current President, Jim and Carly Hellen, and Jack and Polly McDonough for their contributions to this document. Penny has provided not only current information but also technical expertise in its format.

Bob Hylen
ARA Historian and Immediate Past President
(December 2017)
If credit is to be given to one individual for establishing the Active Retirement Association (ARA), that honor should go to Edward Durnell who was the Director of the Division of Continuing Education (DCE) at the University of New Hampshire, for it was Mr. Durnell who asked Frank and Helen Heald of Durham to coordinate a special program in the Seacoast area for active retired people.

On July 8, 1982, the Healds wrote a letter to six individuals in the area asking for their assistance in developing a peer learning program. Thus, a steering committee was formed, composed of Frank and Helen Heald (Durham), Anne Boy (Nottingham), Barbara Myers (Newington), Rev. Harry Ford (Exeter), Raymond Brighton (Portsmouth), and Robert and Tina Dudley (Durham). Their first meeting was on August 6, 1982, at which time they asked other individuals to assist them. On October 18, 1982, an organizational meeting was held with James Hall of Pace University as a guest speaker. Mr. Hall outlined an existing learning-in-retirement program at Pace. It was at this meeting that the ARA concept was born.

The first ARA General Meeting was held on January 24, 1983, and the first programs began on February 7th, running through May 13th. At that time there were 182 members.

It was not until 1984 that By-Laws were written, stating in part that:

“The purpose of the Association shall be to offer programs for continuing education for retired people 50 years of age or older. Such programs are to offer a stimulating environment in which its members may participate while "learning to live and living to learn."
The By-Laws were approved on April 9, 1984, and then the process of becoming a non-profit educational organization began. Articles of Association were accepted on May 6, 1985, and Articles of Agreement of the ARA as a New Hampshire Non-Profit Corporation were filed with the Town of Durham and the State of New Hampshire on July 14, 1986. This was followed by the Internal Revenue Service agreeing that ARA was a non-profit Association.

A formal affiliation with UNH was confirmed by an agreement dated August 25, 1989. This allowed the ARA to become an outreach function of the University and permitted use of the UNH logo on ARA informational material. Following its earliest years (1982-1986), however, the ARA has been financially and operationally independent from UNH, with fiscal responsibility falling on the ARA Board of Directors.

In the spring of 1983, the Association held a contest among members to design a distinctive ARA logo. Ralph Burgio, a UNH graphic designer, was to be the judge. Mr. Burgio selected elements from three entries for the logo that still appears on ARA material today. The three winners were Edna Follansbee for the tree design, Margery Milne for the tree of life philosophy, and Ruth Stimson for the circles of continuity. As described by Mr. Burgio, “The tree faces much the same needs as humans and follows similar paths into the future. The main stem leads upward into continuing interests in later years. The tree is framed within a circle which suggests a continuity of people continuously retiring.”

ARA Board of Directors. The ARA By-Laws initially established a Board composed of four Officers (President [called “Coordinator” until 1987], Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary) and seven Directors (Audio/Visual, Cultural Tours, Facilities, Hospitality, Membership, Programs, and Public Relations). Over the years, the positions of Memorial Fund Director (2004), Publications Director (2000), and Technology Services Director (2014) have been added.
Over the past 35 years, these members have led the organization:

- ARA Coordinators (1982-1987)

  L. Franklin and Helen Heald
  L. Franklin Heald
  Robert M. Dudley

- ARA Presidents (1987-2017)

  Robert M. Dudley
  Donald F. Clark
  Ingeborg K. Brandt
  Barbara H. Wing
  Margery Clark
  Robert S. Hylen
  Deidre Prescott

ARA Membership. In its first year, ARA had 182 members from 23 communities. During the past decade, yearly membership has ranged from 259 to 357, sometimes representing over 40 communities in Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts. The largest numbers typically come from Durham, followed by Dover.
All-Member Events. General Meetings, open to all members plus the general public, take place in September, October, February, and March. Typically, a social get-together with refreshments contributed by members is followed by entertainment. Yearly events also include a Holiday Luncheon in December and a Spring Luncheon/Annual Meeting in May.

In 2014, the October General Meeting provided an exposition of ARA members’ art work, organized by Gayle Hylen. We were privileged to view work in a wide range of media by Ed Bordeau, Frances Bonner, Carol Caldwell, Judith Custer, Pat DeGrandpre, Heidi Ely, Elaine Fink, Ben Getchell, Eileen Golden, Joan Kane, Sue Keener, Donna Lawrence, Polly McDonough, Judith Simpson, Linda Spaanenburg, Nancy Starks-Cheney, Anne Vaughn, and Karl Zemrusky.
ARA Programs. High-quality programs, the heart of ARA’s success, continue to be offered in four 4-week terms, two in the fall and two in the spring. Currently, most take place at either the Durham Community Church or the Kittery Community Center. Many formats are offered, including lectures (often drawing on UNH experts); panel presentations; discussion groups; live performances; movies, TED talks, and other video presentations; short local field trips to museums and other venues; and hikes.

Some of the longest-running ARA programs and the years they started include:

1983 – Physical Fitness, Play Reading,
1984 – “Great Decisions,” Walks (now Hikes),
1985 – “Travels without a Suitcase,”
1986 – Creative Writing,
1988 – “Great Discussions.” That year also saw the start of Annual Meetings in May and a Holiday Party in December.

Programs on Demand (PODs). In response to requests for additional activities that could be continued year-round, “Programs on Demand” were initiated in 2013. Any ARA member can start and lead a POD to bring together others of like interests. As of late 2017, the following PODs exist: Walking, Watercolor Painting, Digital Photo Art, Lunch Bunch, Biking, History, Playing Music, Book Group, Writers’ Workshop, Potlucks with Recipes, and Genealogy. New PODs are added on a regular basis (and some older ones retired), based on members’ current interests.

Cultural Tours. Initiated in the fall of 1983 with an overnight trip to Cape Cod, these tours are a major reason why many individuals join ARA. In recent years, most of them have been day trips to museums, theaters, historical sites, and concerts in the comfort of a motor coach. Overnight tours were re-started in 2016 with a trip to a Broadway show and other attractions in New York City, followed in 2017 by a two-night trip to Mount Desert Island and the Coastal Maine Botanical Gardens.

ARA Memorial Fund. The Memorial Fund was established in 2004 with a grant from the family of ARA member Robert E. Smith. Over the years, donations in honor of other deceased members have added to that fund, the proceeds from which have been used for lectures reflecting the interests of the persons who have been honored. The first funded lecture was held on October 5, 2007. The ongoing “Seacoast Memorial Lecture Series” is free and open to the general public.
UNH Ties. Although ARA is self-sufficient, maintaining its regular operations entirely by member dues, its affiliation with UNH continues. UNH hosts the ARA website (www.unh.edu/ara), and ARA members are entitled to hold UNH library cards. With our mantra of "learning to live and living to learn," we rely heavily on current and former UNH faculty and staff members for presentations on a wide-ranging variety of subjects.
Our formal UNH liaison currently is Laura Davie, Director of the Center on Aging and Community Living in the College of Health and Human Services. The Center sponsors an annual “Age of Champions” expo, at which “Wildcat Inspirational Awards” are presented to individuals who have inspired the community around them through acts of community service, education and learning, commitment to active aging, leadership, and/or innovation. In 2016 and 2017, ARA members represented over half of all awardees, a strong indication that our organization contributes to a healthy, active, and interactive lifestyle.

APPENDIX:
ARA THEN AND NOW

To give an idea of how the Active Retirement Association has grown and changed over the years, we include two ARA newsletters: the first ever issued, for Spring 1983, and the most recent, for Fall 2017.
ABOUT THE ACTIVE RETIREMENT ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Active Retirement Association is to enhance the quality of life for people of retirement age in the Seacoast area. We seek to accomplish our goal through a variety of activities which offer our members the opportunity to keep intellectually alert, remain abreast of current affairs, make new friends, and broaden interests.

The programs featured in this, our first formal publication, have been developed to offer a personally stimulating environment conducive to "learning to live" and "living to learn."

ARA is an association of individuals with diverse backgrounds. Each of us brings special interests, knowledge, and skills into the association, and this diversity is a primary resource in developing appreciation and understanding in new areas. Although the ARA may draw upon the resources of University of New Hampshire faculty, we strive to become a peer-participatory organization, using the talent and experience of our own members as much as possible.

ARA seeks to reach retired people in the Seacoast area by offering the opportunity to utilize long-unused or undiscovered talents as leaders, teachers, researchers, reporters, and discussion leaders.

The men and women who join the Active Retirement Association take part in our activities because they want to! There are no employer pressures to build skills, no grades or credits to be earned, and no specific rewards (except for the excitement of the experience and the satisfaction of personal development).

The association observes operational guidelines of the University of New Hampshire and its Division of Continuing Education, and we depend upon the University for logistic support in such areas as meeting rooms, parking, and library privileges. Yet the ARA is an independent organization, choosing our own operating committees, creating and administering our own programs, and organizing our own excursions, social events, and other activities.

We are grateful to the University, in particular to its continuing education division, for providing initial support for printing, postage, office space, and telephone. Eventually however, the ARA will operate as a self-supporting project, funded solely through its membership fees. We also are indebted to the Division for the professional assistance offered by its staff: in particular, Joanne Piper (development and organization) and Ralph Burgio (publications and mail lists).

ARA STEERING COMMITTEE

The initial organization of the Active Retirement Association has been developed by a steering committee of area residents:

L. Franklin and Helen Heald, coordinators, Box 216. Durham, NH 03824. Telephone 868-9696.

Robert and Tina Dudley, 121 Madbury Road, Durham, NH 03824. Telephone 868-1981.

John Beckett, 55 Mill Pond Road, Durham, NH 03824. Telephone 868-2884.

Anne Boy, RFD 1, Kelsey Road, Durham, NH 03824. Telephone 659-5230.

Mary Booth, Mast Road, (Lee) RFD Durham, NH 03824. Telephone 659-5386.

Raymond Brighton, 169 Essex Avenue, Portsmouth, NH 03801. Telephone 436-1619.

John and Marion Gannon, 14 Ambler Way, Durham, NH 03824. Telephone 868-7077.

Barbara Myers, Little Bay Road, Newington, NH 03801. Telephone 436-5817.

HELP US DESIGN A LOGO

The Active Retirement Association is seeking a distinctive logo for use on our stationery, membership cards, program announcements, and the like.

Who among us has some creative talent for this sort of thing? Even if you are not an artist or designer, you may have an idea that could be developed into an attractive symbol for ARA.

Entries submitted do not have to be a finished product or "camera-ready," as the printer says. We want ideas which we can give to a graphic designer to put on the polishing touch.

Send your ideas, sketches, suggestions, (or whatever!) to the Active Retirement Association, Box 421. Durham, NH 03824. Be sure to include your name and address because there will be a prize for the entry which the ARA Steering Committee judges the best.

The deadline for entries: January 28. The prize: a $15 membership in ARA for the February-June program period.
SPRING 1983 PROGRAMS

With 515 membership in ARA, individuals may enroll in any (or all) of these events, first-come, first-served.
In the program listings which follow, an asterisk (*) denotes membership in the Active Retirement Association.

FEBRUARY 7-MARCH 18

UP-TO-DATE ESTATE PLANNING AND RETIREMENT INVESTING. Wednesdays, February 9 through March 16. 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Daggett Forum Room, UNH Dimond Library.
Are your affairs in order? Will your spouse or other survivor(s) be prepared? Recent changes in tax laws make a review of estate plans essential. After retirement, you may need to make substantial revisions in your investing techniques.
Program leaders: Fred Ober*, retired president of the Mutual Bank for Savings, Newton and Boston, MA. Duncan Bruce* has taught retirement planning through the UNH Division of Continuing Education.
Guest experts: Terry Mayo, estate and tax lecturer; Harold McKeer, Certified Public Accountant; and Preston Saunders, trust attorney.

LOCAL CROSS-COUNTRY SKI TOURING. Thursdays (or Fridays), February 3 (or 4) and February 10 (or 11). 9:30 a.m. to noon. Rendezvous: UNH Elliott Alumni Center parking lot.
Two local, morning tours on easy-to-moderate cross-country ski terrain at Poo Farm, Durham. Participants must provide their own equipment. (Rental are available at Wilderness Trails, Durham, and other sporting goods stores throughout the Seacoast.) When you register, be sure to include your telephone number for confirmation by the program leaders.
Program leaders: Jim Slaigers*, a retired army colonel, paratrooper, and mountainier, is an instructor of cross-country skiing and survival skills. Rena Slaigers* is a cross-country ski instructor.

WAYS OF SEEING AND THINKING. Thursdays, February 10 through March 17. 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Dallas Hall, St. George's Church, Durham. Lectures and discussions on the world views of people in selected cultures, compared and contrasted with those of people in the United States.
Speculation about historical and other influences. Models for understanding, and techniques for dealing with, unfamiliar world views.
Program leader: John Beckett*, UNH Professor Emeritus of Management.
Guest speakers include: David Magidson, UNH Associate Professor of Theater Communication; Douglas Wheeler, UNH Professor of History; and Harshide Mort, UNH Visiting Professor from Japan.

ASPECTS OF RENAISSANCE ART. Thursdays, February 10 through March 17. 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. Daggett Forum Room, UNH Dimond Library.
Appreciation of art grows as understanding of it increases. A UNH art historian will share his philosophy, wit, and knowledge of the dimensions and characteristics of 15th- and 16th-century European art. The novice, as well as the connoisseur, will enjoy this acquaintance with the great Renaissance period.
Program leader: David Smith, UNH Assistant Professor of the Arts.

CURRENT EVENTS. Mondays, February 7 through March 14. 9:00 to 10:30 a.m. 1925 Room, UNH Elliott Alumni Center.
Timely interpretation of what is behind the issues and events in today's headlines, discussed by UNH professors who are specialists in their fields.

Global Issues that Underlie the News, by John Voll, UNH Associate Professor of History. Army Control, by B. Thomas Trout, UNH Associate Professor of Political Science. China Today, by Allen Linden, UNH Associate Professor of History. Current Affairs in the USSR, by Hans Helbronn, UNH Professor of History. Current U.S. Affairs, by Frank McCann, Jr., UNH Associate Professor of History. Middle East Affairs, by John Voll, UNH Associate Professor of History.

BY-THE-MINUTE COOKING. Thursdays, February 10 through March 17. 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Kitchen adjacent to Dallas Hall, St. George's Church, Durham.
Learn how to prepare breakfast, lunch, and dinner efficiently — coordinating and controlling meal preparation with a simple kitchen timer, "by the minute." Instruction and hands-on preparation of dinner dishes will produce the evening meal for the participants to take home. Each member must bring a kitchen timer to class. — It's one of the secrets of this new method of cooking. Cost of the food will be shared by the participants. (Repeated in Session II) Maximum 20.
Program leader: Donald Bassett*, retired Navy Captain, Dental Corps, and clinical professor at Tufts University.

CONSERVATION PERSPECTIVES. Thursdays, February 10 through March 17. 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. Activities Room, Durham Community Church.
Our environment is fragile, and it's too often taken for granted in relation to human goals. Economic, biological, and political forces are not usually compatible, and a course of action is needed to insure the preservation of each main thread. Conservation is essential to survival of "humanness.
Program leader: Oliver Wallace*, retired UNH Professor of Forest Resources.

YOU, YOUR HEALTH, AND FITNESS. Mondays and Wednesdays, February 7 through March 16. 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Paine Auditorium, Durham Community Church.
Each period will consist of two parts: (1) presentations about health and fitness conditioning, with questions and answers; and (2) easy exercise activities performed to music with a beat.
(Meets twice a week for six weeks. After a two-week break, this program continues for another six weeks in Session II.)
Program leaders: Robert Wear* is UNH Associate Professor of Physical Education. Lea Dingle* has led physical fitness and recreation courses for adults through the UNH Division of Continuing Education.

APRIL 4-MAY 13

A SECOND LOOK. Thursdays, April 7 through May 15. 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. Dallas Hall, St. George's Church, Durham.
Three novels, which are part of our literary heritage and deserve further study, will be required reading for this program: My Antonia, by Willa Cather; Madame Bovary, by Gustave Flaubert; and The Scarlet Letter, by Nathaniel Hawthorne. Maximum 35.
Program leader: Beverly Dingle is a retired English teacher.

THE WORLD AROUND US. Fridays, April 8 through May 15. 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. Activities Room, Durham Community Church.
This program will provide six different windows through which to view what has been happening recently in our world. The speakers are experts who will open our eyes in a way that we can understand some of the exciting frontiers in social, biological, and space sciences.

BY-THE-MINUTE COOKING. Thursdays, April 7 through May 12. 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Kitchen adjacent to Dallas Hall, St. George's Church, Durham. Repeated from Session I. Maximum 20.
Program leader: Donald Bassett*

NATURE IN THE SPRING. Thursdays, April 28 through May 12. 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Rendezvous: UNH Elliott Alumni Center parking lot.
Subject to the whims of nature: Oliver Wallace will lead a walk on Thursday, April 28, (or show slides if it rains). Maggie Bruce will show slides Thursday, May 5, and lead a nature walk, "Critters, Flowers, and Fungi," on Thursday, May 12. Maximum 20. When you register, be sure to include your telephone number for confirmation by the program leaders.
Program leader: Maggie Bruce* has taught numerous nature programs through the UNH Division of Continuing Education. Oliver Wallace* is UNH Professor Emeritus of Forest Resources.

YOU, YOUR HEALTH, AND FITNESS. Mondays and Wednesdays, April 4 through May 11. 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Paine Auditorium, Durham Community Church. Continued from Session I. Robert Wear* and Lea Dingle*

NEW HAMPSHIRE HISTORY. Wednesdays, April 6 through May 11. 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. Daggett Forum Room, UNH Dimond Library.
An informal presentation, with slides and guest speakers, to tell the story of the people and events that have affected the state's history during the past 300 years.
Program leaders: Helen Heald* is co-producer of three multi-media programs dealing with New Hampshire history. Mary Booth* is a columnist on New Hampshire history.

THURSDAY AM — THURSDAY’S MIX
Durham Community Church

October 26 – History of Climate Change – Eminent UPenn Prof. Emeritus, Bob Geigengack returns to tell us how much climate change we have to worry about.
Earth systems have always fluctuated but today they are up against all environmenal variables. Our Professor will give us the perspective we lack. Be prepared to be prepared! (Carol Selsberg – (207) 439-7957)

November 2 – “Economics of War” – Economic policy plays a huge part on the world stage affecting our lives personally in a big way. Before, during and after World War I, countries rose and fell and were divided. Economic decisions destroyed fortunes and created new ones. Dr. Neil Ninan, Dean of the School of Business at UNH will speak about events of 1914 as Europe went to war and developments thereof, creating the economic pressures leading to the next War. (Judith Custer (603) 743-3348)

November 9 – Field Trip to Sara Orne Jewett’s House – Sarah Orne Jewett is an iconic Maine author. She lived in a wonderful 1784 South Berwick house. We’ll tour the house and learn about her life there. We’ll also learn about her book, “Country of the Pointed Firs.” After that we may have to go to Fogarty’s for lunch since it’s right around the corner! (Judith Custer (603) 743-3348)

November 16 – “TED Talks on Art” – Several short but acclaimed media-driven TED Talks (Technology Entertainment Design) “Ideas Worth Spreading.” Talks on a compelling variety of art forms will be shown, then discussed by members who are guaranteed to enjoy the 7-22 min. films and each other. (Carol Selsberg (207) 439-7957)
