<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name:</th>
<th>Office:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Contact Email:</td>
<td></td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>

Training: Online Social Networking in the Workplace

1. Which of the following is not an example of an online social networking site?
   a. Facebook
   b. lolcats
   c. MySpace
   d. LinkedIn

2. Which of the following types of information might often be found on online social networking sites?
   a. Education
   b. Religious views
   c. Children’s names
   d. All of the above

3. True or False: In 2007, about 50% of 18-19 year olds were involved in online social networking.
4. True or False: It is important to maintain the same boundaries on online social networking sites as you would want to in face-to-face interactions.

5. True or False: The NASW Code of Ethics warns against any dual relationships where there is a risk of exploitation. DCYF workers’ relationships with youth and families have a risk of exploitation.

6. True or False: DCYF workers should always remain aware of whether their conduct with youth and families is personal or friendly.

7. Which of the following is a good reason to search for online social networking profiles of youth/families?
   a. Curiosity about education
   b. Curiosity about marital status
   c. Curiosity about sexual orientation
   d. None of the above

8. Maintaining appropriate boundaries on online networking sites is an important part of protecting which of the following interests?
   a. Involved family members
   b. Workers
   c. DCYF
   d. All of the above
9. True or False: Information that you post on online social networking sites could potentially have a negative affect on your professional opportunities.

10. True or False: Because most online social networking sites do not have a means of adjusting privacy settings, it is best to entirely avoid all online social networking.

Please attach your Action Plan and this completed Participation Check and submit them to UNH CPE to the attention of Pam Seufert.
Fax #: (603) 271-4737