DEAR MEMBERS OF THE UNH COMMUNITY,

I am pleased to share the University of New Hampshire’s annual giving report for the 2020-2021 fiscal year. As incoming board secretary of the UNH Foundation, I have the privilege of serving my alma mater alongside others who are equally passionate about advancing the mission of the university. While our ambitions to increase charitable giving to UNH are big, the most important thing we can do, and ask others to join us in, is contributing our time, talent, and financial support each year. Every corner of the university is impacted by gifts, and you’ll see some specific examples in this report. Thank you for your generosity to UNH and I hope you’ll continue to join me in supporting the students, faculty, and staff of the university in the exciting year ahead. Go Wildcats!

Katie Bouton, ’96

“UNH prepared me for my career, helped me develop professionally and personally and has provided many opportunities over the years. I donate every year to the Paul College Internship Opportunity Fund, so students can access high-value internships. I also enjoy giving my time so that, hopefully, I can have a positive impact on student experiences and act as a resource to UNH’s countless initiatives.”

“Occupational Therapy has been an important focus for my life. I think it is an incredible profession. UNH has been pivotal to my family for 3 generations. My grandmother was part of the class of 1925. My father taught there for almost 40 years.”

The impact of gifts to the University of New Hampshire is as far-reaching and varied as the students, faculty and staff who call this place home. We are blown away by all the ways you and others stepped up to support us and all UNH students through a global pandemic, on top of ongoing contributions to scholarships, internship and research stipends, and to our colleges, departments, teams and programs. Our sincere thanks to everyone who contributed this past year and we hope you enjoy learning about who gave back and how.

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE STUDENTS

The power of your support goes far beyond financial assistance. When you make a gift to UNH, you are not only making tangible opportunities possible but you’re giving students the chance to develop an invaluable sense of identity and community. For students like Grace Roy ’22, that leaves a lasting impression.

“In a year with a variety of different challenges, your support made so many opportunities possible for all of us. Personally, it has helped me find my place at UNH, by helping to fund my education, undergraduate research, and internship experiences,” Roy says. “We want you to know how truly grateful we are for your support.”

UNH students continue to achieve incredible things. That speaks directly to their character and determination, but it also speaks to the long-lasting impact of philanthropy. So much of what happens at UNH wouldn’t be possible without you.
