Jackie Klatt is a junior at the University of New Hampshire is and currently spending the semester at the University College Utrecht in the Netherlands taking honors courses in psychology. She has a blog where she has posted pictures and short descriptions of her time abroad. <https://klattjackie.tumblr.com>. She notes: "Studying abroad has truly been the experience of a lifetime. I have met people from all over the world here at University College Utrecht. It continues to be a privilege to get to know these people and learn about their culture. Living in the Netherlands and embracing Dutch culture has certainly broadened my perspectives and opened my mind to a world of possibilities! I've traveled to many countries already including the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Greece, and have plans for more. This opportunity has been such a blessing in my life and I feel thankful to be here every day."
