Welcome home, Woodside!

Welcome to Woodside! My name is Becky and I am the manager here at Woodside. I am so excited to be a part of this community and I can’t wait to see all we do together this year! These newsletters will be your monthly scoop into the happenings at Woodside.

Your CAs will be planning some great programs throughout the year to get you connected to the Woodside and campus community. Let them know what you’d like to see! We want you to enjoy and participate with us.

My office is connected to the mailroom, so don’t hesitate to say hi when you stop by!

The Woodside Times
Woodside is proud to be part of the UNH composting program!

The Woodside compost bin is a bright yellow trash bucket located behind the recycling dumpster. All leftover food scraps that do not contain meat or dairy can be placed in the compost!

It’s easy and saves nutrient-rich food from ending up in a landfill. Instead the food waste is taken to Kingman Farm, the University's 350-acre agronomy research facility, and broken down into rich nutrients for the soil.

If you are interested in a compost bin for your apartment, visit the Woodside office during mailroom hours! Here are some tips about what is and isn’t compostable, and how to make composting manageable for you and your roommates.

Compostable
- Veggie & fruit scraps
- Crushed egg shells
- Coffee grounds & filters
- Tea leaves & tea bags
- Hay
- Grains, rice, flour, wheat products
- Flowers & plant leaves
- Small amounts of shredded paper
- Non-meat, non-dairy table scraps

Non-Compostable
- Meat, Fish, Dairy (these items take a LONG time to compost and they’re smelly!)
- Colored paper
- Diseased plants & flowers
- Inorganic material (plastics, metals, etc.)
- Human or animal waste
- Fats & oils

HOW TO AVOID HATING YOUR ROOMMATE

Apartment living isn’t easy, especially when you have the added stresses of a busy schedule and a heavy workload. To avoid a yelling match with your roommate, follow these simple tips:

AVOID NEGATIVE TWITTER AND FACEBOOK POSTS.

Be an adult and address issues person to person, not online or via text.

AGREE ON A CLEANING SCHEDULE.

Not doing your part to maintain your room is a recipe for an argument.

ASK YOUR ROOMMATE BEFORE BORROWING THEIR THINGS.

Simply put, you wouldn’t like the same thing happening to you, so why do it to someone else?

ASK BEFORE YOU INVITE GUESTS TO STAY FOR THE NIGHT.

Your roommate has a right to their privacy and to enjoy their room at all times. Always ask before inviting guests to stay.

EQUIPMENT RENTAL

You can rent some sports equipment you can rent from the mailroom. Equipment includes volleyballs, Kan Jam, Spike Ball, and a football.

You can borrow the equipment anytime the mail room is open and equipment must be returned in a timely manner.

Please note residents are not permitted to use the propane grill outside the Community Center or the fireplace inside the lounge.
