Exploring Whiteness Program

Coming Fall, 2021

A five-session emotional and historical exploration for white-identified individuals.

Why join us:

- Opportunity to explore your racial identity and the history of race in the United States
- Monthly in-person sessions with online learning.
- Build community through a cohort model - you'll navigate this process with a set group of your peers.
- Offers a space for self-reflection.
- Begin to consider ways to use your racial privilege for change.

A unique and immersive experience for those wishing to dig deeper into their white identities.

Cohorts available for students, staff and faculty.

For further details, please email allyson.ryder@unh.edu