Chart 1: Academic/Research Articles in National Media
(top 50 outlets)

This spike is the result of several large events over the year, including commencement with two former presidents, the Republican presidential primary debate, campus visits by Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton, Survey Center polling during the primary, and extensive use of faculty by media throughout the primary season.