HOW TO USE THIS DOCUMENT

Community Standards issues these Guidelines to educate students and the University community about the conduct system. We believe that one of the many important purposes of higher education is to help students understand the outcomes (both positive and negative) of the choices they make. This document provides students with information about the potential consequences of their behavior and about what to expect from the conduct system and their rights within it. These Guidelines will help students to make informed decisions. Accordingly, the Guidelines provide information about the individual violations and the typical sanctions administered if a UNH student is found responsible.

While our intent in creating these guidelines is to be as transparent as we possibly can be, in no way does this document restrict Community Standards to any sanction outcome. For a disciplinary system to be fair, it must be flexible enough to respond to each student as an individual and to the particular facts and circumstances of each case. Sanctions should reflect the severity and nature of the violations, any high risk behaviors, and a number of other aggravating and mitigating factors (where present). This means that some violations may not have a single typical sanction and instead have a range of typical sanctions.

Find the “Typical Sanction” for a Violation

1. Go to the “Table of Typical Sanctions” section of this document.
2. Locate the rule that was violated. The violations are listed, in order, by rule number (i.e. Rule 8: Hazing).
3. Many rules will have sub-categories/violations (i.e. 1a, 1b, 1c). Determine which one most accurately describes the circumstances of the violation in question.
4. The “Typical Sanctions” will be in a column directly adjacent to the violation, as well as any information specific to that violation and factors to be considered.

Multiple Rule Violations for a Single Incident

Generally, for students charged with multiple violations arising from the same incident, the starting point is the typical sanction for the most serious violation. Then a determination is made whether the other violations warrant imposing a more serious sanction.

The University defines serious violations as misconduct that:

- > Caused physical harm to others.
- > Jeopardized the safety and/or well-being of others.
- > Caused an adverse impact to the residential or University community.
- > Caused serious damage to University property or the property of others.
- > Violates conditions of probation or indicates repeated violations.
- > Involves hosting a gathering where prohibited drinking has occurred/common sources.
- > Is a violation of the University Drug Policy.
- > Harms others because of their particular race, religion, gender, sexual orientation or other category protected by law or University policy.

Factors to Consider (Aggravating / Mitigating Factors)

Aggravating factors generally serve to increase the severity of a typical sanction. Students should be aware, for example, that even though a typical sanction for a violation might not include eviction from University housing, the presence of an aggravating factor may result in a sanction that does include eviction.

The Student Code defines an aggravating factor as, “a circumstance attending the commission of misconduct that adds to its seriousness.” There are certain factors that Community Standards almost universally considers aggravating. Examples include: an incident causing an adverse or negative impact to an individual or the community, prior misconduct, violence, use of force, dishonesty, premeditation of a violation, malicious intent of violation, and the presence of any high risk behaviors.

The Student Code defines a mitigating factor as “a circumstance that may be taken into consideration to reduce a sanction.” Common examples of mitigating factors include: accident, provocation by others, self-defense, remorse, sincere insight into the nature of the harm caused and a willingness to reduce or heal the effect of that harm. A mitigating factor does not constitute a justification or excuse for misconduct.

A mitigating factor that may be considered in the sanctioning of conduct cases is the level of involvement of a student. It is the desire of UNH that, upon graduation, all of our students will have the strength of character to challenge their peers or find appropriate staff when they see violations of the Student Code. We recognize, however, that our students are in different developmental spaces and challenging their peers may be difficult. If a student chooses to remain in their room or apartment and is aware that a conduct violation is occurring, but actively seeks to avoid the violation or find appropriate staff, sanctioning may be mitigated. This means a student may be charged or sanctioned, but if they are, it may be to a lesser degree.

Sometimes students are confused about what Community Standards will consider as a mitigating factor. That confusion most commonly arises when it comes to the individual student’s character. Many students believe that if they present evidence of their good character, their sanction should be reduced. That is not the case. Character is not considered in conduct cases. We want to believe that all UNH students have good character. We are incredibly proud that many of our students choose to volunteer their time for worthy causes, participate actively in their halls, and are “A” students. To be fundamentally fair to all UNH students, we focus on a behavior (misconduct) and we understand a single choice in a student’s life does not define who they are nor their character.

Students also mistakenly consider honesty and cooperation as mitigating factors. They are not. The University expects that all students will be honest and cooperative with hall staff, University officials, and police. When honesty and cooperation are missing, it may very well be considered as an aggravating factor in a case.

Finally, a student’s educational plans or desires are not mitigating factors. While the desire to study abroad or participate in an organization is admirable and encouraged by the University, that desire is not considered a mitigating factor.

Repeated Offenses & Prior Findings of Misconduct

For several offenses, you will see typical sanctions listed for “Second Offense” and in some cases, “Third Offense.” Misconduct should be considered a second or third offense when it is similar in nature to the prior offense. It does NOT have to be a repeat offense for the same violation. For example, the “Second Offense” sanctions would generally apply when the first incident is an alcohol use violation and the second incident is a marijuana use incident.

A prior conduct violation that is not similar to the current violation should simply be considered as a general “aggravating factor” when determining the sanction for the current violation.

SANCTION TYPES & DESCRIPTIONS

Sanctions are categorized into three levels – Level I, Level II, and Level III. This section provides an overview of possible sanctions and their descriptions.

Level I Sanctions

- > Warning: A written warning serves as a reminder that any further violation(s) of the Student Code will most likely lead to additional and more serious sanctions being imposed. The warning is considered complete at the time of the receipt of the ROV and/or meeting with the complainant.
- > Educational Sanctions:
 - Advice to Other Students: Developing advice for other UNH students is a way for a respondent to reflect upon their experiences, continue to educate themselves, and to leave a positive impact on the UNH community. Specific guidelines, such as the topic, length, and format, will be provided.
 - Attend Program/Event: Attending a program/event at UNH gives a respondent an opportunity to become engaged in social activities at UNH. The respondent must attend the sanctioned program/event by a specified date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.
 - Goal Development: Developing goals to work towards achieving will allow a respondent to reflect on their experiences and maintain a path to academic, personal and professional success. 5 goals should be developed, of which at least one is personal, one is educational, and one is professional (career). The remaining goals can be on any topic the student chooses. At least 500 words must be submitted (at least 100 words per goal), explaining how each goal follows the SMART format (specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound).
 - Letter to Future Self: Writing a letter to a respondent's future self will allow the respondent to focus on their goals, values, and aspirations. The letter must be a minimum of 500 words.
 - Letter to Mentor: Develop a letter addressed to a mentor will provide an opportunity for a respondent to discuss their violation and its impact with someone who they look up to. The letter will NOT be sent to the mentor, it is used solely as a format for the assignment. The letter should outline the violation, impact on others, and what has been learned through the process. The letter must be a minimum of 500 words.
 - Meeting with UNH Staff/Faculty/Department: One or more meetings with Professional and/or Academic staff will help a respondent to reflect on their choices and create a plan for both academic and social success at UNH. Further instructions regarding specific topics to be discussed along with the number of meetings will be provided. The meeting(s) must be completed by a specified date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.
 - Presentation: Developing a presentation on a specific topic/focus allows a respondent to further educate themselves and others. Specific guidelines on the presentation topic, length, style, and audience will be provided.
 - Public Service Announcement (PSA): Developing a PSA on a focused topic, policy, or procedure is an opportunity for a respondent to reflect on and learn further about the impact of their actions. The PSA can be a short video, social media postings, poster campaign, or similar. Specific requirements, including the PSA topic, will be provided to the respondent.
 - Reflection Writing Assignment (Incident/Violation): A reflection writing assignment gives the author an opportunity reflect, consider the decisions that were made that led to the conduct violation(s), and discuss how similar situations should be handled in the future. Further instructions regarding the intended content and length of the paper will be provided. The paper is a minimum of 2-pages, standard college format. Once the paper has been approved, the sanction is considered complete.
 - Reflection Writing Assignment (Other): A reflection writing assignment is an opportunity for a respondent to reflect, further realize the impact of their actions, and continue to learn about a topic or focus. Further instructions regarding the intended content and length of assignment will be provided. Examples of assignments include reflecting on a class project, UNH webinar, TedTalk, podcast, local non-profit, or other similar topic.

- Top 10 List: Creating a top 10 list of things students should know about an agreed upon topic, such as a certain policy, program, or event, allows for a respondent to reflect and help educate others. The list should be geared towards other UNH students and provide details. The list must include 10 items and be a minimum of 500 words. The list may be used as a promotion on campus, in which the respondent can remain anonymous.
 - Write an Article: An article for a newsletter or other publication is an opportunity for a respondent to reflect and help to educate others about the importance of meeting community expectations. The respondent may remain anonymous as the author. Further instructions regarding the length and topic of the article will be provided. The article must be submitted by a specified date to be reviewed for approval. Once the article has been approved, the sanction is considered complete.
- > Restorative-Type Sanctions: Restorative-type sanctions are intended to assist in repairing any harm or disruption that was caused to a person, group, or community.
- Apology Letter: An Apology Letter is an appropriate way for a respondent to reflect on what could have been done differently in the specific situation and to bring closure to the incident for involved parties. The letter must be submitted for approval by a specific date. Once the letter has been approved, the sanction is considered complete.
 - Attend Program/Event: Attending a program/event within the impacted community gives a respondent the opportunity to become engaged in the community and repair any harm. The respondent must attend the sanctioned program/event by a specified date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.
 - Bulletin Board: The creation of a Bulletin Board for a respondent's community allows an opportunity to share information and educate other community members about issues related to a specific topic. The respondent may remain anonymous in the creation of the board. The bulletin board must be completed (not displayed) by a specific date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.
 - Restorative Service: Performing community service within the impacted community allows a respondent to give back to the community that they caused harm to, in addition to serving as an opportunity for education and gaining knowledge. Examples includes picking up trash around a residence hall/apartment, completing rounds with RA/CA staff, or a discretionary project from hall/apartment staff.
- > Other Types of Discretionary Sanctions: Any discretionary assignment that will help a respondent learn from their decisions, reflect, and/or demonstrate responsibility as a member of the university community. Further instructions regarding the specific conditions of the sanction will be provided. The discretionary sanction must be completed by a specified date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.

Level II Sanctions

A Level II sanction is any sanction greater than a warning that may also impact a responding student's ability to participate in university programs, study away and university scholarships. Level II sanctions and above are used as the basis for the Three Strikes Policy.

- > Banned from Entry: Prohibited presence in specific buildings or group of buildings on campus (including university housing) for a designated period of time. The ban includes the immediate vicinity of any building including but not limited to loading docks and covered vestibules. Once the designated ban period has ended, the sanction is considered complete.
- > Community Service: Community Service must be volunteer hours for the benefit of the community. Examples include non-profits, religious organizations, and government agencies. Hours perform for individuals or entities outside of these three examples must receive prior approval from Community

Standards –failure to receive prior approval will result in the hours being rejected. Hours will not be accepted if the student received compensation, or the hours were for a for-profit company.

- > Disciplinary Probation: Disciplinary Probation serves as a written reminder that any further misconduct will most likely lead to additional and more serious sanctions being imposed. Probation is imposed for a designated period of time. Being on probation may impact the status of any merit-based scholarships and participation in University organizations or activities including study abroad. Once the designated probationary period has ended, the sanction is considered complete. Incidents resulting in disciplinary probation are considered a “strike” towards the University’s Three-Strike policy. Note: If a respondent violates the Student Code while on probation, they will be subject to 10 hours of community service in addition to any additional imposed sanctions that result from the subsequent incident. (See Unique Sanction Situations)
- > Fines: Mandatory fines are imposed when specific rules of the Student Code are violated. The most common fines are for first ($50) and second ($100) offense alcohol or other drug violations.; however, additional fine categories exist (trash removal, late fines, etc.). When a fine is sanctioned, it is added to the respondent’s student account by Community Standards. Payment of fines are to be made to UNH Business Services. Once confirmation of payment is received at Community Standards, the sanction is considered complete.
- > Health Education Courses: UNH Health & Wellness offers various levels of a Health Education Program that is designed to assist respondents in gaining knowledge and skills in making more informed choices. The program includes education in a course setting, as well as individualized meetings between the student and a wellness educator/counselor. When a student is sanctioned to a health education course, they must contact Health & Wellness within two (2) business days to register for the course. There may be a cost associated with the course, which is the responsibility of the respondent to pay directly to Health & Wellness. More information, including course specifics, how to pay the registration cost, and the deadline to complete, will be shared with the student when sanctioned.
- > Loss of Privileges: Denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time, including but not limited to, participating in University athletics, membership in recognized student organizations, use of specified University facilities, and loss of guest privileges in University housing. Once the designated loss of privileges period has ended, the sanction is considered complete.
- > Prohibition against Personal Contact: Prohibited contact or presence near a specified person for a designated period of time. Specifically a respondent is prohibited from intentionally initiating contact, in writing, by telephone or any other electronic means, including text messaging or any form of social media. Additionally a respondent is prohibited from having other individuals initiate contact with the specified person(s) on their behalf. If the respondent inadvertently finds themselves in the vicinity of the specified person(s), it is the respondent’s responsibility to leave the area immediately without engaging in any form of contact. The prohibition of contact applies anywhere on or off campus. Once the designated prohibition against contact period has ended, the sanction is considered complete.
- > Reflection / Engagement Program (REP): REP is a student-specific program that is designed to be intentional and individualized to each student, offering an opportunity for tremendous learning and reflection. REP is comprised of in-person meetings, engagements and involvements, community service, and a reflection paper writing assignment. Students participating in REP will work one-on-one with a member of the Community Standards staff to complete the program within the guidelines and deadlines.
- > Restitution: Restitution is compensation for loss, damage or injury. Restitution may take the form of an appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement. When monetary restitution is sanctioned for damage of university property the amount be added directly to a respondent’s student account by the Housing Department. If sanctioned with monetary restitution or material replacement to another individual, Community Standards and/or the complainant will work with a respondent to facilitate transfer of the payment/replacement by a specified date. Restitution must be received in order for this sanction to be considered complete.

- > Other Types of Discretionary Sanctions: Any discretionary assignment that will help a respondent learn from their decisions, reflect, and/or demonstrate responsibility as a member of the university community. Further instructions regarding the specific conditions of the sanction will be provided. The discretionary sanction must be completed by a specified date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.

Level III Sanctions

In order to consider imposing one of the following sanctions, the Hearing Panel shall find that one or more of the following conditions is present:

- > Misconduct that caused physical harm to others.
 - > Misconduct that jeopardized the safety and/or well-being of others.
 - > Misconduct that caused an adverse impact to the residential or University community.
 - > Misconduct that caused serious damage to University property or to the property of others.
 - > Misconduct that violates conditions of probation or indicates repeated violations.
 - > Misconduct that harms others because of their particular race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, or marital status.
 - > Misconduct that involves hosting a gathering where prohibited drinking has occurred/common sources.
 - > Misconduct that is a violation of the University drug policy.
- > Eviction from University Housing: Separation from University Housing for a designated period of time. When sanctioned with eviction, the respondent must check-out of their housing assignment within a specified timeframe. The duration of the eviction is generally two academic semesters; the specific length of the eviction will be provided. During the length of the eviction the respondent may visit UNH housing and must abide by all guest policies. If a separate ban from entry is imposed, the respondent must abide by the terms of that ban (see loss of privileges). For questions regarding housing refund policies, see the “Payment/Cancellation/Refund” section of the Student Rights, Rules and Responsibilities Handbook or contact the Housing Department. The Community Standards website also offers resources for evicted students. Once the designated eviction period has ended, the sanction is considered complete.
 - > Expulsion from University Housing: Permanent separation from University Housing. When sanctioned with expulsion from University housing, a respondent must check-out of their housing assignment within a specified timeframe. A respondent is also banned from entering all University Housing as a result of the expulsion. For questions regarding housing refund policies, see the section “Payment/Cancellation/Refund” of Student Rights, Rules and Responsibilities Handbook or contact the Housing Department.
 - > University Suspension: Separation of the respondent from the University for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Information regarding the duration of the suspension will be provided to the respondent. Conditions for readmission may also be specified. Readmission to the University requires application and acceptance through the Office of Admissions. A student ineligible to register for or attend classes at any one USNH institution because of suspension entered upon a finding of responsibility for violation of the institution’s Student Code shall be ineligible to register for or attend classes at any other USNH institution during the entire period of suspension. Students on suspension for any reason will not earn transfer credit for courses taken while on suspension as outlined in the UNH Academic Policies. For questions regarding tuition refund policies contact UNH Business Services. Informational pamphlet on resources for suspended students. Once the designated suspension period has ended, the sanction is considered complete.
 - > University Dismissal: Permanent separation of a respondent from the University. Administrative business may be conducted on campus with prior notice to University Police. A respondent ineligible to register for or attend classes at any one USNH institution because of permanent dismissal entered upon a finding(s) of responsibility for violation(s) of the institution’s Student Code shall be ineligible to register for or attend classes at any other USNH institution for a period of two (2) years following the date on which the student was permanently dismissed. For questions regarding tuition refund policies contact UNH Business Services.

- > Other Types of Discretionary Sanction: Any discretionary assignment that will help a respondent learn from their decisions, reflect, and/or demonstrate responsibility as a member of the university community. Further instructions regarding the specific conditions of the sanction will be provided. The discretionary sanction must be completed by a specified date in order for the sanction to be considered complete.

SPECIAL SANCTIONING ISSUES

Committing a Violation while on Probation

If a student commits a policy violation when the student is already on probation (that has not expired), an additional sanction of 10 hours of community service will be added to sanction for the current violation. Additionally, if the student receives additional probation for the current offense, that probation will be added to the end of the existing probation period.

Late Fines

Students who fail to complete an assigned sanction by its due date may be assessed a late fine by Community Standards. The fine for failure to complete a sanction on time is $50.00 and will be assessed repeatedly if the student continues to fail to complete the original sanction.

Suspension-Related Sanctions

When a student receives University Suspension as a sanction, the suspension is for a set amount of time (semesters/academic years). Upon completion of the suspension, the student can apply for readmission to the University. Should the student be readmitted to UNH, the following sanctions should be considered being assigned for upon the student's return:

- > Meeting with Dean of Students * required
- > Disciplinary Probation (through graduation) * required
- > Educational & Restorative Sanctions
- > Eviction from University Housing
- > Loss of Privileges (Banned from Entry, Prohibition from Personal Contact, etc.)

Academic Standards and Advising Committee (ASAC) and Suspensions

It is important to note that the Associate Deans of each respective College within the University may become involved in a student's conduct record. As outlined in the Students' Rights Rules and Responsibilities, if a student is involved in a combination of multiple conduct violations and/or arrests the Associate Dean of their college may bring formal conduct charges forward and recommend at least a semester suspension from the University. While suspension is a sanction that impacts a student's academic progress and access to social opportunities, this is not intended to be punitive in nature. The intent of this temporary separation from the University community is to help a student address whatever issues they may have in their life and assess what is and is not important to them through time away from UNH. It is the University's desire that the student returns to UNH with an appropriate academic and social focus so they graduate from UNH.

Misconduct that Occurs at a Mass Gathering

The University takes mass gatherings of students very seriously because these gatherings have the potential to inflict great harm on students, law enforcement officials, and the community at large. In past gatherings, students and University officials have been injured and the University, Durham community members, and local businesses have suffered substantial property damage.

The University has gone to great lengths to work with and educate students on the dangers of committing misconduct while at a mass gathering. As part of that effort, the University wants to make it clear to students what the consequences for such misconduct will be.

Possible Interim Suspension / Campus Ban: During a mass gathering, if a student fails to comply with a lawful order to disperse – issued by a police officer or University official acting in the performance of their duties – and the student is arrested for failure to disperse, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, riot, vandalism, or assault, that student will be immediately interim suspended and banned from campus until any formal student conduct charges against the student have been adjudicated by the University.

Significant Sanctions: In order to promote consistent disposition of these cases, the following sanctions should be considered and imposed by hearing panels if students who were interim suspended due to alleged misconduct at a mass gathering are ultimately found responsible for the following:

- > Failure to disperse/disorderly conduct at an unruly disturbance: Suspension (1 sem. - 1 yr.)
- > Failure to disperse/disorderly conduct that also included resisting arrest and/or rioting: Suspension (1-2 yrs.)
- > Failure to disperse/disorderly conduct that also included resisting arrest and/or rioting and also included vandalism and/or assault: Suspension (2 yrs.) - University Dismissal

Important to Note:

- The sanction for disorderly conduct may be elevated beyond a 1 yr. suspension (up to University Dismissal) based on the facts of the case.
- The sanction for resisting arrest and/or rioting may be elevated beyond a 2 yrs suspension (up to University Dismissal) based on the facts of the case.
- Students who are suspended or dismissed are also banned from all campus property. For suspended students it is for the length of the suspension.

ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

Alcohol at UNH

Alcohol violations are some of the most common violations committed at the University of New Hampshire. Typical sanctions for first offense alcohol violations may include, but are not limited to, fines, health education programs, and probation. First offenses can also result in eviction from University housing. Being on probation could result in the loss of privileges such as studying abroad, participation in a student organization or on an athletic team. The facts outlined below, from the April 2015 National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism publication on College Drinking, illustrate why sanctions are needed (<http://pubs.niaaa.nih.gov/publications/CollegeFactSheet/CollegeFactSheet.pdf>).

- > Death: 1,825 college students between the ages of 18 and 24 die each year from alcohol-related unintentional injuries.
- > Assault: More than 696,000 students between the ages of 18 and 24 are assaulted by another student who has been drinking.
- > Sexual Abuse: More than 97,000 students between the ages of 18 and 24 are victims of alcohol-related sexual assault or date rape.
- > Injury: 599,000 students between the ages of 18 and 24 receive unintentional injuries while under the influence of alcohol.
- > Drunk Driving: Each year an estimated 4,860,000 students between the ages of 18 and 24 drive under the influence of alcohol.
- > Alcohol Abuse Disorder: 19% of college students between the ages of 18 and 24 met the criteria for alcohol abuse or dependence, but only 5% of those students sought treatment for the alcohol problems in the year preceding the survey.
- > Academic Problems: About 25 percent of college students report academic consequences of their drinking including missing class, falling behind, doing poorly on exams or papers, and receiving lower grades overall.
- > Unsafe Sex: Each year an estimated 400,000 students between the ages of 18 and 24 have unprotected sex, and more than 100,000 students in the same age group report having been too intoxicated to know if they consented to having sex.
- > Other Consequences: Include suicide attempts, health problems, vandalism, property damage and involvement with the police/conduct offices.

Drugs at UNH

The University also takes any violation of the drug policy very seriously. Drug use and drug abuse have serious consequences for both individuals and society and as an institution we want to do our best to stop illegal drug use and protect our students from the ramifications of such use. Therefore, a violation of the drug policy may result in eviction from University housing at the very least, and depending on the nature of the violation, may lead to dismissal from the institution.

Marijuana has been decriminalized in the State of New Hampshire; however, it is still illegal to possess or use. The University of New Hampshire is also an institution that receives federal funding. As such, the University will continue to be bound by Federal regulations in the Safe and Drug Free Schools and Communities Act and the possession and use of marijuana, including for medical reasons, is prohibited on any UNH campus and will be considered a violation of the Student Code.

There is a large volume of misinformation about the effects of Marijuana on the developing brain. This office encourages parents and students to seek out research based and peer reviewed information about how marijuana effects the development and long term growth of the adolescent (the developmental space of most UNH students) brain so they may make the best and most informed choices around marijuana use.
