Graduate Student Senate

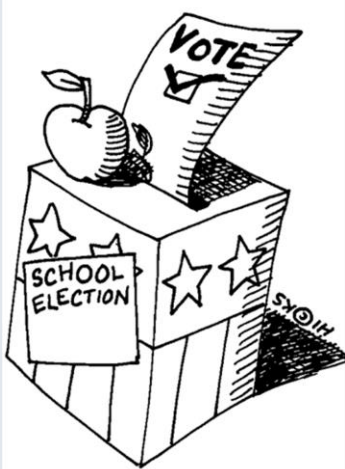

A BRIEF UPDATE FROM THE GRADUATE STUDENT SENATE

Spring 2020 is off to a great start! To see what the various GSS committees were working on during fall 2019 and what they are planning for the current semester, check out the new "GSS Committee Reports" page on our website. Some highlights from the fall include: summarizing and distributing the results of the Campus Climate Survey (Diversity and Inclusivity Committee), organizing events like the GSS Town Hall (Programming Committee), and working to push for more comprehensive and affordable health insurance (Health and Wellness Committee).

Nominations will open on Feb. 24th for the 2020-2021 GSS and Elections will begin on March 9th. Any graduate student who is interested in improving grad student lives and representation on campus should consider running for a position. You can nominate yourself and/or other students for up to two (2) positions. Visit our website for a list of GSS positions and more about how GSS is organized.

Nominations to run for Graduate Student Senate positions for the 2020-2021 academic year will open on February 24th.

Email grad.student.senate@unh.edu to nominate yourself or someone else for up to two (2) positions.
