   c. Liaison to Administration
      i. No Liaison
   d. President’s Cabinet
      i. Academic Affairs: My name is Audrey Getman and I have a lot to look at this semester, I would love to do everything and need a strong team to work with me. Please email me or reach out to me to join.
      ii. Health & Wellness: My name is Emily Cochran. We work with SHARPP, Dining, etc. to make policy changes that work for students. We are trying to set up a time. If you are new come find me or email me.
      iii. Judicial Affairs: Over Homecoming Weekend the police department used their new observation post that they got a grant for. It’s the tower by Boulder Field. They put cameras on it and used it to see where people needed help.
      iv. Fraternity & Sorority: Tyler cannot be here today because of a ceremony for his fraternity. He wants me to let everyone know that he wants everyone in a Fraternity & Sorority to get involved with the Council and on campus. He wants to collaborate with us to strengthen Greek Life on Campus. He will set up a times for his council soon.
         1. Jake: Greek Life members who are senators are on the council by default, right?
         2. Brennan: Correct
v. Community Development: My name is Elena Ryan. Along the same lines as Emily, I tentatively have a meeting at Tuesday at 5. Right now, we have a lot of things going. My focus is the President’s Task Force on Campus Climate. In lieu of the Alpha Phi incident and the lag in response of conduct procedures, the Taskforce has reexamined what they are doing and we will respond more in real time in a more urgent manner. One of the first things to go through is the new Social Media Policy. For anyone who hasn’t seen it I will attach it to the announcement I will make. We are going to revise the current draft quite a bit. I want to stress how important all that we are doing is right now. I want to stress that the University is in a state of crisis. I need people to share my sense of urgency in what we are trying to do right now. It is one of the most important things that is happening. Please join my council and come with your comments. I think there are a lot of people on campus who need support.

vi. Campus Structure: I am Ethan McClanahan. I agree with what Elena said. It is urgent to figure out the racial issues on campus. My Council looks at infrastructure and take concerns to administration. Email me if you are interested in joining my council. Our meetings are Friday at 4 P.M.

vii. External Affairs: I am the chair for External Affairs and my job is to change the perception of Student outside of the Campus. I have been working with the town council and local business owners. I also work with the state government and alumni. We have been working on parking problems and how the town is reacting to the new parking limits on campus. We are trying to see how the changes impact others. There are a few humanitarian rights issues in the town, such as the mural in the Post Office, which is offensive to the Native American community. The Council is Friday at 5:00

e. Student Senate Officers
   i. Business Manager: None
   ii. Executive Officer: If you have not given me your contracts, they need to be signed by the Hall President or Hall Director. New Senators who will be added tonight, make sure you do your 4 office hours in our Office in MUB 119a. You must join a council or committee. You also must go to 2 SAFC meetings. I will count SAFC as 2 hours in the log. I’m glad everyone is settling at UNH. The Senate office is not your house, please do not leave your things around.
      1. Emily: Do Exec members have to do the four hours?
         a. Sarah: I will get back to you on that
      2. Jesse: Do you include Judiciary and Election Committees?
         a. Sarah: For 2hrs/week
      3. Shannon: Please listen to Sarah, last year, we had a bunch of new senators fake their office hours. They were caught. These office hours are so you can interact with each other and have an opportunity for students to reach out to you. There are people who live in the office, they will know if you are doing your hours.
iii. SAFC Chair: My name is Jake Adams, SAFC is the committee that oversees the funding for all 250+ orgs on campus. If you want more information, come see me privately. You must attend 2 meetings during the year or one Budget and Concepts meeting. The First will be on October 4th. Go to events, events are fun. You get to know your constituents. The CFOs are not always here because they are not required to be here. If you have questions for them, reach out to them. My email is SAF.Chair@UNH.edu

iv. CFO 1: Not Present
v. CFO 2: Not Present
vi. Historian: Hi everyone, my name is Tyler Anderson and I am the Historian, which means I take minutes of every meeting and have general knowledge about the history of Student Senate. To learn about the history of Student Senate, I usually go to the Archives in Dimond Library, which are in room 101. Sarah has been kind enough to let me do two of my office hours there per week, so come visit, the archives can get lonely.

vii. DPR: My name is Chris Percy. We are doing first year elections, which is when we elect the First Year Senator. I need a strong team as well, please reach out to me. As soon as I get more people, I will set up a meeting time.

viii. Parliamentarian: I am Jesse Austin. If you have questions related to procedure, ask me. I’m excited to see you all back here.

f. Student Body Vice President: Welcome everyone who is new, it is going to be a great year

g. Student Body President: I’ve shared the Social Media Policy up. Please come to me with any suggestions you have. We are meeting with a lot of administration. We met with the Chief Technological Officer and Police Chief Dean. We are also running a Taskforce on how to make the May 5th events not happen this year. That will happen pretty frequently leading up to May. Reach out to us with any questions.

h. USSBR: Hi everyone. I’m Christian Merheb. I represent all of you on the Board of Trustees (BOT). They oversee the four public universities in New Hampshire. I am often in the office and have office hours on my door.

i. Student Senate Speaker: I am Brennan Pouliot. If you have a question, raise two fingers, a comment is one finger. You only have two comments, but someone can bump a comment to you. If you agree with someone, use jazz hands. Try to recruit senators if you can.
4. NEW BUSINESS
   a. XXXIX - 2.02 - Removal of Senators
      i. Read by Executive Office ii. No Action Taken
   b. XXXIX - 3.02 - Approval of Senators
      i. Read by Executive Officer
      ii. The following Senators were added:
          1. Cameron Kenney (Non-Res 9)
          2. Omkar Waghe (Non-Res 10)
          3. Lauren Lomberto (Congreve)
          4. Isaac Colcord (Fairchild Co-1)
          5. Alexander Brown (Fairchild Co-2)
          6. Camden Tatsapaugh (Handler 1)
      iii. Passes
   c. XXXIX- 4.02- Approval of Judiciary Committee Members
      i. Read by Parliamentarian ii. Jesse: We meet Tuesday 5-6 to go over various items before they come to the floor so they are presentable. We can help you with formatting. If you are interested in adding yourself, please do so.
      iii. Carley: Who currently sits on this?
           1. Jesse discussed the current membership
           2. Brennan: There are 5 senators
      iv. No Action Taken
   d. XXXIX - 5.02 - Approval of Council Chair
      i. Read by Student Body President ii. Tyler Drisko added for Fraternity & Sorority Affairs Chair iii. Carley: We appointed him interim in July. We put him up at one of our last summer quorum meetings and he was not approved. We did not feel that the situation did not give him a fair shot. He still really wants this position.
          He wants to do better for Greek Life and the University. We feel he is qualified enough to do this iv. Alexandra: I met him through Leadership Camp. He was a PAWS leader.
          He is in Lambda Chi Alpha. He was External Vice President, he is on the Advisory Committee on IFC. He just has a very strong passion for his fraternity. He wants to bring Greek Life together from all the stuff going on Campus. Regarding meetings, he can make the GCP Meeting and the PanHellenic meetings. He cannot make the IFC meeting because of class, but there are ways to work around that.
      v. Elena: How long do IFC meetings usually take?
         1. Christian: A half hour to 45 minutes vi. Christian: Some of you may know, in addition to my role in Senate, I am also IFC President. I work with Panhellenic as well. I am fine with this candidate, but he has missed two meetings. If he misses another meeting, I will have to request his removal.
vii. Carley: How do his current absences go against him?
   1. Christian: Because he is interim viii. Ian: To Jesse, what is the rules for attendance regarding proxies?

   1. Jesse: There is no difference regarding proxies.

ix. Jake: I do not know him that well, but as a base line, you need to be able to accomplish the things in your bylaws. There are two bullets in his bylaws that he cannot meet. It’s just a fact of life

x. Carley: We stressed this to him as well, if it is a problem, he will go to the meetings. He is willing to go to IFC instead of class xi. Evan: I’m not sure we should appoint someone who needs to skip class to go to meetings. We are still students.

xii. Ian: What is the plan if someone is not appointed tonight?
   1. Carley: This has been open since May and I have had 4 people interested since then. Our classes come first, but we haven’t had that much interest. Since someone really wants to serve UNH, this is troubling to me.

xiii. Ian: This individual may be on thin ice, but it is better to have someone in the position than not. If not, we can just go back to the drawing board in a few weeks.

xiv. Elena: We are students first, but it is up to his discretion how he spends his time. If he is aware of the stipulations of the bylaws, I trust that they stick to them. Let’s get this position filled. If this candidate does not adhere to the bylaws, we will get a letter in about a week asking for his removal. I would tentatively approve him.

xv. Jake: I wouldn’t say he is on thin ice. If you cannot fulfill your bylaws, you can’t do your position. If three other people have already applied for the position, we should choose from that pool.

xvi. Brennan: If this pass, he would move into the position immediately. If it fails, the SBP and SBVP would appoint an interim for two weeks.

xvii. Dennis: Could you provide us with the bylaws for Fraternity and Sorority Affairs?
   1. Bylaws pulled up by Jesse xviii. Carley: Which meetings did he miss?

   1. Christian: Last week, and the second week of school

xix. Carley: Did you inform him that he had to be at IFC?
   1. Christian: I met with him the first week of school. This is before the first IFC meeting that I told him they would be Wednesday at 7 P.M.

xx. Brennan: This vote requires a 2/3 approval to pass.

xxi. Elena: What do the IFC bylaws state?
   1. Christian: They say that “If the Greek Liaison… is absent for 3 meetings” it will be suggested that they be removed.

xxii. Evan: I think it said more than three, not three or more. He’s only missed two.

xxiii. Ian: In between meeting Tyler and now, have you informed him of the repercussions for missing meetings?
1. Christian: I do not consider it within my duties to inform someone that they have missed meetings. If people normally do not attend my council, I fine them. I can just express my disappointment. It is his job to come to me.

xxiv. Ian: But is your job to run the meeting effectively, correct?
   1. Christian: Yes,

xxv. Jake: How would the relationship between Senate and IFC work if you dis-recognized the Chair?
   1. Christian: We would not find him to be legitimate xxvi. Shannon: Did he mention that he had class?

   1. Christian: Yes, but I didn’t really provide him with a solution xxvii. Shannon: Do the meetings have a set time, or just when they are convenient to call?

   1. Christian: They have a set time xxviii. Carley: Is it true that you did not even realize that the Chair had to sit on IFC?

xxix. Carley: So, do we usually go as in depth as we have now?
   1. Christian: I can’t really speak to that

xxx. Shannon: In the words of Lincoln Crutchfield, just because something has been done wrong in the past, does not mean we should continue to do it wrong

xxx. Christian: In my perspective, you guys can vote in the way you deem fit. Tyler seems to be a good candidate, it does concern me that he cannot attend. I trust the Student Body President and Vice President to provide a capable candidate.

xxxii. Shannon: Point of Information, you can find all the times the bylaws were changed at the bottom of the bylaws.

xxxiii. Passes
e. XXXIX - 6.02 – Failure of Summer Logs
   i. Read by Parliamentarian
   ii. Jesse: Summer logs are when the SBP and SBVP fill out over the summer. They must log a minimum of ~20/week during summer break. When this was brought up to Judiciary, they decided the academic break was May 22 until August 23rd. That is about 13 weeks.
   iii. Carley: That decision was made a week ago, not when we started our logs.
   iv. Carley: This was not my first summer collecting logs. We sat down with Jesse and former parliamentarians before the summer. Alex and I talked to Jesse that I had military training for four weeks and that I can’t collect hours during that time. I started my hours two weeks earlier. I went two weeks later than Alex as well. I was sitting with Jesse in my office and counted out 11 weeks in the office. Alex put in a lot of work. We were told that the 11 weeks was not enough and that we needed to do 12. We did the 20 extra hours, just to get to 240 hours. We worked all summer, I think a military excusal should count.
   1. Brennan: It does not
   a. Carley: Why was I not told that at the time?
   v. Carley: If that was not okay, I would not have run for SBP. I had a federal government mandate. It is frustrating that our hard work is being questioned. Now, the third week of school the bylaws were being interpreted differently. I’m doing exactly what I was told at the start. Now that it was interpreted differently, we are being punished for it. I will be happy to take questions, but I think it is ridiculous.
   vi. Jesse: did you say earlier that you wouldn’t agree because of your training but would have agreed to the 13 weeks?
   1. Carley: I could have been working more in May or at another time, but now it is interpreted that you can only do it during the summer. There are two different interpretations.
   2. Brennan: The Judiciary Committee is the final interpreter of the constitution. They can overrule any decision that Jesse or I make.
   vii. Elena: This conversation, and the information related to Carley, did you bring this up at Judiciary
   1. Jesse: None of this was brought up at Judiciary. I included what the University interpreted as a summer break. I did not express anything I told Carley viii. Elena: Why did you tell Carley that 11 weeks was acceptable at the beginning of the summer. Could you elaborate on how that miscommunication could have happened?
   1. Jesse: I did not say 11 weeks, just that 20 weeks/hour was acceptable. I remember saying 12 weeks
   ix. Carley: Then we did 12 weeks
   1. Brennan: I believe that Judiciary has overruled that.
x. Sarah: What are the consequences for them not doing their hours?
   1. Brennan: In the past, there has been a motion to impeach the Student Body President and Vice President. It is also possible to withhold their stipends.

xi. Ian: Who are currently in Judiciary
   1. Members raised their hands xii. Dennis: I understand that the Judiciary Committee can overrule when terms of agreement were already made? How can this decision after the agreement was made affect their results retroactively?

     1. Brennan: There were discrepancies. There were no establishments that we could find in an official email. It would have been hearsay 2. Jesse: As the Parliamentarian, if Judiciary says something and I overrule them, I would be breaking my bylaws xiii. Dennis: Why was there no official communication 1. Brennan: That is a result of the world we live in. In the past, we have not put this into official writing. We gave it to Judiciary to set the precedent, and it will be used in future years

xiv. Jake: Carley, do you believe that the hours recorded here is the correct amount.
    1. Carley: There was a miscount in the first week. I sent him another week because I had been collecting hours. I did do 240 hours for the weeks I was told to collect for xv. Christian: Jesse, are you sure this is correct. Carley did 233.5 hours. Are there logs that are not up there?

     1. Jesse: There is a log from outside the claims set by Judiciary.
     2. Carley: Two of them are in May and that is outside of the parameters.

xvi. Dennis: Are the logs public?
     1. Shannon: Yes.

xvii. Brennan: Can the Executive Office add those to the Senate Canvas page.
     1. Carley: That can take hours to review, as a heads up xviii. Jesse: The logs were all approved by Summer Oversight.

xix. Brennan: Each week, Carley would submit a log for the week. Summer Oversight would go through and approve the logs xx. Elena: Shannon, as you were a part of the conversation at the beginning of the summer, what was your interpretation of the agreement?
   1. Shannon: I was Parliamentarian last year and on Summer Oversight for two years. At the conversation, I said it was at Jesse’s discretion. The former SBP started on May 1st. In terms of this, we are still in summer quorum since we did not have a meeting until last week. Any hours they have done should be counted. I would bump it to Judiciary to count those hours. I talked with Jesse and I said it was up to his discretion. I said that three times. This came up to Summer Oversight if this was going to be an issue. It was brought up again three weeks ago. I told them to make up the hours. I do understand their frustration. I did not realize that this was not communicated to them. It is Jesse’s job to do that. It is a communication error. The bylaws, however, are very set regarding this matter. I do not discredit any work they did, they do care a lot about their jobs. They would not be putting the hours in if they did not. People were not clearly listening to one another.
   2. Regarding what I think should happen with this. We need to take it into account that there was a large miscommunication. This should fail because the hours were not met. We do not need to bring this to the extreme [of impeachment], but that the partial withholding of a stipend would be okay, but only for the number of hours that they missed.

xxi. Alex Brown: Were the number of weeks changed in the mid or end of summer?
   1. Brennan: There was never a consensus.
   2. Alex: The last email I have from Jesse was from August 13th stating that I needed to log 4 more hours by August 26th xxii. Alex B.: It sounds there was miscommunication over the summer. Regardless of if the quota was changed, we shouldn’t punish them since the rule were changed “mid-game.”

xxiii. Jake: I get the whole 20hrs/week thing. Went into the bylaws regarding Summer Oversight
   1. Jesse: I saw that that information was in there.
   2. Brennan: Can you pull up one of the logs for reference?

xxiv. Liam: Was the SBP Notified when you made this change?
   1. Carley: I was notified by a friend.
   2. Jesse: there was communication afterwards. About three hours after
   3. Ian: I told her 30 minutes ago about this.

xxv. Nooran: To Judiciary, what drove this change in interpretation?
   1. Jesse: There were discrepancies on what exactly constituted Summer Break, but since Judiciary is the final interpreter of the bylaws, I wanted them to set them. I decided to refer the decision to Judiciary. They did so outside of anything I said. It was by their interpretation of the Constitution and Bylaws xxvi. Elena: Would it be a possibility if we fail the logs and, as punishment, change their stipends for the week they did not log.
   1. Brennan: The reprimanding is at the Speaker’s discretion.

xxvii. Gordon U.: What was the information withheld in Judiciary?
   1. Jesse: It is supposed to be interpreted via the Constitution, not the situation.

xxviii. Christian: How many hours have been done in the past?
   1. Brennan: Jon did ~260 hours while Cam and Ryan did a lot more than that
   2. Jesse: This shows that there was discrepancy in what constituted the Summer Break.

xxix. Lauren: When did you first bring up these concerns to Judiciary?
   1. Jesse: We met for the first-time last week.

xxx. Lauren: So, this was brought up last Tuesday?
   1. Jesse: They made their decision on Tuesday.
   2. Brennan: Judiciary had to be established during the last Senate meeting xxxi. Lauren: When did you start having mixed interpretations on the hours?

   1. Jesse: On day one, being told that the interpretation is not my own decision. When I presented the number of 12 weeks in the summer, I attempted to resolve that.

xxxii. Carley: Jesse, if past precedent was 260 hours, why didn’t you let us know that?
   1. Jesse: I only said what the weekly average would be. You said you wanted to start early and I felt that we were on the right track.

xxxiii. Alex B.: When asked how many weeks they had to work, there was no clarification? How many weeks did past presidents work?
   1. Jesse: I intended to get it from past members, but they said it was up to me.
   2. Brennan: People said in the past that they were at UNH for 20 hours for a certain amount of . It is based off that.

xxxiv. Elena: What happens if this fails?
   1. Brennan: It is my discretion to bring sanctions against them.

xxxv. Travis: When they met on Tuesday, were they made aware of the 6½ hours missing from the logs?
   1. Brennan: They were not shown summer logs at all xxxvi. Christian: The role of Judiciary is to interpret the Constitution, not situations xxxvii. Ethan: I’m really confused. If you are in favor of there being no consequences, how would you vote

   1. Brennan: You would vote nay on this bill.

xxxviii. Travis: What does this require?
   1. Brennan: A simple majority unless stipulated in the bylaws. This is a simple majority.

xxxix. Jose: Who can vote on this?
   1. Brennan: All members except for me, Jesse, and Sarah.
xl. Shannon: Ignore my last comment that these should not pass. I pulled up the conversation had August 13th. It was agreed to start May 8th but an end date was not agreed on. I responded that it is up to the first regularly scheduled meeting. It was said that Alex and Carley had prior obligations, but that it comes to the discretion of Brennan and Jesse. It was said in the middle of the summer that the hour should be made up. There was a misunderstanding of how many hours by August 13th. It is not Carley and Alex’s fault that they misunderstood the hours they were supposed to meet.

xli. Evan: I think that we should not fail the logs due to the fact there has been no clear consensus in the past. Judiciary made a clear consensus on what the logs should look like, but that should apply in the future.

xlii. Carley: I do respect the decision that Judiciary made, but I wish the decision was made before the Summer started. I just want everyone to know how upsetting it is that we are being told we did not make our logs. It is ridiculous to me that you are debating about this discrepancy. We were all here this summer. WE still are. Don’t penalize us because of a confusion.

xliii. Ian: Call to Question
   1. Seconded
   2. Brennan: This would stop discussion and have us move onto voting

3. Call to Question Passes

xliv. Brennan: This is for failure. If you vote yes, you vote to fail. If you vote nay, you are voting that the logs should have passed.

xlv. Jesse: Unless Judiciary overrides their decision made on Tuesday, Judiciary’s decision still stands.

xlvi. Bill Fails Unanimously

f. XXXIX – 7.02 – Approval of SAFC Senators
   i. Read by SAFC Chair
   ii. Those added to the bill include
      1. Nicholas Crosby
      2. Evan Smith
      3. Peter Sirkovich
      4. Liam Sullivan
   iii. Jake: Myself, the CFO, and Brennan had interviews and found that all four candidates would be valuable additions to the team. This fills all the spots. We have spots for At-Large Members though.
   iv. Passes Unanimously
g. XXXIX – 8.02 – Approval of SAFC At-Large Members
   i. Read by SAFC Chair.
   ii. Those added to the bill include
       1. Krysta Gingue
       2. Nicholas LaCourse
   iii. Jake: This past Tuesday, interviews were done for At-Large Members. This is it. There is one more applicant for next Tuesday.
   iv. Brennan: How are these different?
       1. Jake: They are members of the undergraduate community who are not Senators and are not receiving stipends from other organizations. There are 6 of them.
   v. Passes Unanimously

5. OTHER BUSINESS
   a. Jesse: The Parliamentarian is an unbiased position, outside of the Constitution and the Bylaws. In no shape or form were the items meant to penalize anyone. That was entirely on the Constitution and Bylaws.
   b. XXXIX – 9.02 Approval of First Year Representative Election SOPs
      i. Brennan: We went through the election procedures and all the yellow marks are things that changed. They are the dates of the elections. They decided that it would take 150 signatures to be approved. This is just for first year students, who are traditional freshman students and transfer students who did not vote for SBP. The petitions are available on October 4\textsuperscript{th}. They will have a week to collect signatures. The petitions must be back by October 11\textsuperscript{th}. The results are two days after the election [Oct. 29\textsuperscript{th}].
      ii. Jake: I’m looking forward to this happening this year.
      iii. Brennan: The First Year Representative is basically a SBP for First-Year Students. They are a way to allow them to have a voice on campus
      iv. Brennan: We made the change last year to allow first-year students to be both transfer and traditional freshmen students, but there were issues. We have been proactive and both groups should be able to vote. It is all online and we can use the mobile app to vote. This should be on Wildcat Link. We hopefully will get a lot of people to participate.
      v. Brennan: A similar policy will be put up for the General Election and Trustee Election
         vi. Passes Unanimously
   c. Jesse: Our bylaws require us to approve the Summer Logs before the end of the night.
d. XXXIX – 10.02 Approval of Summer Logs
   i. Read by Parliamentarian
   ii. Jesse: We are required to approve the Summer Logs, so vote yea or nay iii. Jake: Did Summer Oversight approve all the logs?
       1. Jesse: Yes.
   iv. Travis: What happens on how you vote on this?
       1. Brennan: Yea is to approve the approval, nay is to fail approving the logs
   v. Audrey: Why are hours in parenthesis?
       1. Jesse: These hours would have been outside of the criteria set by Judiciary
   vi. Passes Unanimously

6. ADJOURNMENT
