MOTIONS PASSED IN THE FACULTY CAUCUS

ON SEPTEMBER 19, 1994

Motion on the Faculty Senate referred to Academic Senate:

A motion was made to (1) change the name of the Faculty Caucus to the Faculty Senate and authorize it to adopt such bylaws and standing rules as may be necessary for the proper transaction of business and (2) transfer to the Faculty Senate the responsibility for the committees on Academic Standards and Curriculum, Library, Academic Computing, and Budget and Planning (leaving the current make up of the committees intact, i.e. keeping the student and staff committee members). A motion to refer the proposal as a whole to the Academic Senate was passed.

Motion on Senate Meetings:

Last spring, the Faculty Caucus voted to withdraw from the Academic Senate until the university would commit in writing to article 16.2.3 of the 1991-93 Collective Bargaining Agreement. The university is paying the money from article 16.2.3 now, but binding arbitration is pending to finally decide the issue. Last week, the Faculty Council voted that the Academic Senate should meet to welcome President Fairchild and also have Steve Fan discuss with the Senate the current state of the contract negotiations.

A motion was made that the Faculty Council should discuss and decide whether the motion to withdraw from Academic Senate is now obsolete. The current motion passed.
